Terminal Disclaimer

1. All terminal disclaimers filed on October 21, 2005 do not comply with 37 CFR 1.321(b) and/or (c) because:

The person who has signed the disclaimer has not stated the extent of his/her interest, or the business entity's interest, in the application/patent. See 37 CFR 1.321(b)(3).

2. Therefore, none of the terminal disclaimers have been accepted or entered. It should be noted that applicant is not required to pay another disclaimer fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(d) when submitting a replacement or supplemental terminal disclaimer.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claim 1 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,702,736, 6,612,980, 6,241,657, 5,776,050 and claim 1 of U.S. Pat. Application Serial No. 10/653,719 (in which the claims have been allowed). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other. For instance, the instant application claim 1 recites that the pre-existing software objects are “in registration with one another”. However, each of the patented claims allows for two (at least one) software objects to correspond with the physical structure to be viewed, thus, in its broadest sense, inherently registering these objects with each other based on a common physical structure. Furthermore, the recitation of an endoscope in the instant claim 1 instead of a “real time sensor” as in the patented claims adds nothing to the structure of the claim except for that structure of an endoscope that performs the recited function (“for acquiring data about the physical structure...”), which just happens to be a “real time sensor”. Thus, since an endoscope is a “real time sensor”, the application claim is not patentably distinct from the patented claims. In addition, since the “generating means”, “registration means” and “processing means” in the patented claims cover at least the specific embodiments of the disclosure, they would anticipate the functions of the “generating apparatus”, “registration apparatus” and “processing apparatus” as now claimed in the application claim 1. Therefore, application claim 1 is not patentably distinct from the claims in the above mentioned patents and the above mentioned patent application.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 3739

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
